Meteorological Flight. Planning for Glory. Everything Is Possible. Only a Meteor.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE. Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

SAN SIMEON, Cal., Aug. 13.—In two or three days, Dr. Eckener will be flying his Zeppelin over Siberian plains and hills where dinosaurs once laid their eggs, and on to Tokio. Then will come the flight across the narrow northern end of the Pacific, south along the west coast to Los Angeles, and back to the Atlantic.

WELL may statesmen, fliers and engineers of the world send their congratulations to Dr. Eckener, who at 61 years of age opens a new path around the world.

THE air voyage from Lakehurst to Friedrichshafen described by Dr. Eckener as a "meteorological" accomplishment, a battle with wind and weather.

Flying comparatively low, the Zeppelin obtained the assistance of winds that added 35 miles per hour to the ship's speed, breaking the world's long-distance air-speed record.

IN FUTURE flights, with airships perfected, and heavier than air, flying will be done far above any clouds, at heights where high winds, fogs and storms are unknown.

And air flying will be done on schedule time, with less uncertainty than on modern railroad.

AS THERE are no waves or storms a short distance below the ocean's surface, so all is tranquillity high, plus ten stories below the ground. Men from the first have been reaching, ever, upward.

RETURNING to earth, you learn that the latest building plan is for a structure one hundred stories high, plus ten stories below the ground. Men from the first have been reaching, ever, upward.

PHOENIX, Arizona, reads with horror about five former policemen, and their plan to achieve glory.

They are accused of making two Mexicans and a Nicaraguan drunk, then persuading them to break into a drug store.

When the burglary was attempted, the conspirators shot two of the men dead, wounded the third. Their plan was to be praised and rewarded.

YOU read that with horror. But when ancient kings deliberately started war, for their own glory, killing thousands, how much better were they, than the five conspirators, killing only two?

If it is in history, it is glory. If it is in the slums, it is murder.

THE Associated Press reports that 70 Italian bishops, and numerous heads of religious orders appeal to the pope to "proclaim dogmatically the assumption of the Blessed Virgin, her ascension into heaven, bodily, as well as spiritually."

THE request will be considered at the coming Ecumenical council, and it is proclaimed dogmatically by the pope, the bodily ascension from Palestine into heaven, will become part of the faith, not to be questioned.

CHANGING ideas as to the dimensions of the universe, and the probable location of heaven, might cause the Vatican authorities to hesitate.

But the 70 bishops might well suggest that if a German scientist can ascend bodily, as well as spiritually, into the air, taking 60 human beings with him, and sail around the earth, it is not unreasonable to assume that the Creator of the universe, could easily arrange a bodily assumption from earth to heaven.

Things that once called for miraculous powers are now matters of scientific certainty.

THERE was a tremor, mysterious, loud noise, and a shock that disturbed the residents of East Bay on this coast.

Now you are told the disturbance "was only a meteor falling into the bay."

Coming through the air, made

Snook Case Will Go To Jury On Wednesday

POLICE CHIEF HITS DEFENSE IN CO-ED DEATH

Theora Hix's Slayer Unruffled in Grilling, French Says.
FINAL WITNESS

Closing Arguments Near in Columbus Trial.

By James L. Kilgallen, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

COURTROOM, COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 13.—Dr. James H. Snook was "highly self-possessed" and unruffled in a grilling after his arrest for slaying of Theora Hix, young campus beauty. This was the testimony today of Harry E. French, chief of police of Columbus, at the trial of the ex-college professor for first-degree murder.

Says Snook Seemed Amused.

"Snook was the most self-composed prisoner that I have ever helped interrogate in 29 years," testified French, a big, heavy-set man with ruddy cheeks and iron gray hair.

"He seemed amused while he was being questioned. He wore a sneering smile. He was never ruffled. He tilted back in his chair and talked to us in a most unconcerned manner. He was highly self-possessed."

Police Chief French testified that Snook finally confessed. He did say that after hitting the girl with the hammer that he slashed her jugular vein "to relieve her suffering."

French was listed as the final witness of the trial. Closing arguments will follow and then, after the court gives his instructions, the case will go to the jury—probably tomorrow.

Dictated Confession

Police Chief French told the jury that when Snook was ready to confess he was offered the use of a typewriter but declined, saying he preferred to dictate it to a stenographer. This he did, according to the witness.

"Were any threats or promises made to Dr. Snook before he signed the confession?" French was asked by Assistant Prosecutor Paul C. Hicks.

"No," replied the police chief.

"Chief French, didn't you say to Dr. Snook: 'Doctor, now that you have confessed, doesn't your conscience feel better? And didn't he say yes?'

"Yes, that's correct."

The chief, in pointing out that the confession was not obtained under duress, declared that after he confessed, Snook shook hands with Prosecutor John J. Chester, Jr., who had slapped him when he had lost his patience. Snook also shook hands with Chief French.

The witness related that the prosecutor had apologized to Snook after he slapped him and that Snook said: "Oh, that's all right, Jack."

Cross-Examination Severe.

Cross-examination of Chief French by E. O. Ricketts was severe and at times explosive.

BOY, 15, ADMITS THEFT OF AUTOS

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 13.—(INS)—A 15-year-old Jeanette, Pa., boy who claims he has stolen automobiles in Marion, Portsmouth, Indianapolis, Detroit and Cincinnati, today had met his hashashdaoshaard hand of the local police.

The lad, who is large for his age, was arrested late yesterday when a patrolman found him sneaking around a municipal parking lot.

The boy told police, they say, that he had intended stealing some automobile parts. He said he was hungry and wanted to sell the parts for money to buy food.

BAN CIGARETTE ADS IN ROGERS

Billboard cigarette advertising is banned in the village of Rogers, 13 miles north of here. Members of the Rogers' Women's Christian Temperance Union sent a petition to Mayor Harvey Cope and the village council, protesting against the display of cigarette advertising on billboards in the village.

The clerk was instructed to notify the owners of the billboard to remove the advertising and to refrain from the use in the future of "objectionable matter."

TWO DISAPPEAR ON EXPEDITION TO SOUTH SEA

Gustave Davidson, Poet-explorer, Returns Home.

PALS ARE LOST

"Perhaps Storm or Sharks Got Them," He Says.

By DAVID P. SENTNER International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Three went out and one came back.

Gustave Davidson, poet, author and explorer, today came back from the South Sea isles with the tale of how his two scientific confidantes, W. B. Hargrave, of Colfax, Wash., and P. E. Itaskevitch, former resident of Paris, France, disappeared.

They left the Island of Ralivava in a native catamaran boat last April bound for Tubuai and Poopete," said Davidson. "Perhaps the storm got them or perhaps the sharks know their fate. But they were never sighted afterwards although I have searched every island on the Austral group."

Hargrave was a relative of Harriet Beecher Stowe and a roommate of the late Jack London, the writer, in the Klondike, Davidson said.

First Man Upon Maria Island

Davidson, who hurried home from his Polynesian studies which informed his aged father was very ill, also brought back strange tales of the customs and habits of the island natives. The expedition has been on these Islands south of Hawaii since May 1928. Davidson lived and learned among the natives and was the first white man ever to establish residence upon Maria island.

Polynesian men are the most handsome in the world, tall, strong and golden-skinned," Davidson said. "The women, however, are not very good looking although they sing like nightingales. They do not believe in bobbed hair. They wear bright red loin cloths and Cleveland, and then home.

People Are Very Moral

"The people, however, are very moral. They believe in one wife to each man and generally have a committee of elders of which the chief is president to judge those who break the unwritten law of the tribe."

They have prohibition problems in this group of islands which include Rimitera, Ruruta, Ralivava, Tubuai and Rapa, according to Davidson.

Although the French authorities forbid fermented drinks, the natives are fond of imbibing native beer made from coconut cream and fei (bananas). In fact there is considerable bootlegging of this commodity.

Balloting Climaxes Fever-heated Fights For Mayoralty.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13.—(INS)—The "contribution system" of betting took another blow today following the arrest of Thomas J. McGinty, owner of the Bainbridge park race track on the Geauga-Cuyahoga county line, and three track employees by Sheriff Ben Hotchkiss of Geauga county on gambling charges.

McGinty and the three employees will be given a hearing September 3, two weeks after the Bainbridge meet is closed.

Pending the trial of the four arrested men, Bainbridge track will continue running its full meet.

The boy told police, they say, that he had intended stealing some automobile parts. He said he was hungry and wanted to sell the parts for money to buy food.

Twenty-one planes of various sizes and models will fly over East Liverpool at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 22, on a good will air tour which is being sponsored by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce. The planes will come here from Alliance. After circling over the city, they will proceed to Youngstown.

Swaney made the trip to Columbus in a plane piloted by Monroe Bradley, chief pilot of the local aviation school.

Troy is First Objective.

All planes will be lined up at Columbus at 8:30 a.m. and hop off for Troy, flying over Springfield and Vandalia, Dayton, Middleton, stopping at Hamilton for lunch at 12:45 p.m. They will then fly to Cincinnati, where a brief stop will be made. Portsmouth will be the first all-night stop.

On the second day of the tour, Thursday, they will leave Portsmouth at 9 a.m., flying over Chillicothe, Circleville, Lancaster, Newark, Zanesville, Coshonton, New Philadelphia and make stop at Canton at noon, hence to Alliance.

Stop at Marion.

The tour will then take them south again over East Liverpool, back up to Warren, stopping at Akron, and flying over Ashland, Wooster, Mansfield, Bucyrus and make the second night's stop at Marion.

Leaving Marion on the third day, the tour will continue over Kenton and Lima, with a stop at Defiance, and thence to Toledo. En route there, the fliers will pass Findlay, Fostoria, Tiffin and Fremont.

From Toledo, they will fly over Sandusky and Cedar Point, spending the last night of the tour at Lorain.

The next day they will touch Cleveland, and then home.

Pay Two Fines Within Two Days.

Frank Carson, who paid a $200 fine for a liquor possession charge yesterday, drew another fine of $1 and costs when he faced Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today upon a charge of fast and reckless driving. Carson was arrested in St. George street by Patrolman John Richards yesterday afternoon while "doing 60 miles an hour" in his automobile, it was alleged.

The women are very gentle and love children but apparently are devoid of the maternal instinct. It is the common practice for mothers to give their babies away to neighbors to be brought up.

People Are Very Moral

"The people, however, are very moral. They believe in one wife to each man and generally have a committee of elders of which the chief is president to judge those who break the unwritten law of the tribe."

Judy was not at home at the time of the raid, but an affidavit charging him with the illegal possession of intoxicating liquors was filed in municipal court.

The beer was carried into the yard of the home and destroyed by the police.

Issues Sharply Drawn In Canton and Campbell.

face, the election will decide a bond issue for a $79,000 municipal airport. Beneath the surface, however, will be decided the political future of Mayor C. C. Curtis, running for re-election on the Republican ticket.

Cries of "Clean Up Canton."

Cries of "Rampant vice conditions," "Clean up Canton" and charges that Canton is more corrupt than ever before in its history, have marked the pre-election campaign. The Men's Federation of Bible classes, heretofore a non-political organization, along with other Canton church organizations have taken a definite stand against Curtis.

The political situation was tense in Campbell, mill town suburb of Youngstown. Fearful of an uprising, special police were posted at the polls while the electorate went to the polls to decide its Republican mayoralty nomination.

The tragedy took place at the couple's home here. Both are from Williamstown, Kentucky.

Mrs. Stewart is in a local hospital and doctors said she would recover from the effects of the bullet which tore a path through her right jaw and neck.

PLAN BUS LINE TO CLEVELAND

Pittsburgh Coaches
Will Travel Via East
Liverpool.

LISBON, O., Aug. 13.—With the completion of the East Liverpool-Cleveland road, or State Route 14 between Deerfield, Mahoning county, and Edinburg, Portage county, a new Cleveland-Pittsburgh bus line will be routed through Lisbon, where U. S. Route No. 30, or the Lincoln highway, will be tapped. This will be followed into East Liverpool, Chester, W. Va., and Pittsburgh.

Engineers for the transportation interests have obtained data from the office of County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk.

State Route 14 between Deerfield and Edinburgh is being given a concrete top, and the last concrete was poured today. It was announced by W. C. Keltner, of Ravenna, division highway engineer, who was in Columbian county conferring with H. C. Neff, highway superintendent. Keltner also announced that this new section probably will be opened not later than Labor day.

TWO DIVORCES ARE GRANTED

LISBON, O., Aug. 13.—On the third meeting of the county board of education an assistant superintendent of schools is to be elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. C. Clark, who has accepted a position in the Shaker Heights schools, Cleveland.

Clark has been in charge of the rural schools in the southern Columbian county townships.

The rural schools will open the fall term on Sept. 26. A number of teaching vacancies will be filled this month by H. C. Leonard, county superintendent.

RULINGS MADE IN SEVEN CASES

LISBON, O., Aug. 13.—A sale has been confirmed, a deed ordered and a decree of distribution has been entered by the court in the foreclosure action filed by the Firestone bank of Lisbon against John Fleksy and others.

Similar entry has been made in the foreclosure suit filed against John C. Campbell by the Moechel Edwards Corrugating Co.

In the action to quiet title to property, filed by Chester J. Frantz and others, against Ida Hays, a minor, the court has appointed Mary E. Hays guardian ad litem for the defendant, and has also granted the defendant leave to file her answer at once.

On its own motion, the Ohio Public Service company has been made a party defendant in the foreclosure action filed by Mt. Union college against Ray Standford and others.

Leave to the defendants to file their answer on or before Sept. 1 has been granted in the partition proceedings entered by Willard G. Bortner against Charles Bortner and others.

Robert S. Chamberlain, defendant in partition proceedings filed by L. M. Kyes, has been given leave to answer on or before Sept. 7.

Decree foreclosing mortgages and finding priority of liens has been entered in the suit filed by William F. Smith against Ira M. Pugh and others. An order of sale has also been issued in this case.

City's Oldest Business Man

Within eight years of the age of John D. Rockefeller, who, between holidays in Florida, keeps his eye on his extensive interests, Solomon J. Faulk, East Liverpool's oldest business man, yesterday quietly celebrated his eighty-second birthday anniversary.

Enjoying comparatively good health, the head of the Faulk Milling company is on the job every day, as his friends put it, and takes an active part in the management of the business in which he is assisted by his son, daughter and brother-in-law. And his birthday made no difference in his usual custom, for he arrived at his office at 7:30 yesterday morning as he has done for many years.

Born on a farm near Calcutta, he spent some time in agrarian pursuits, then operated a saw and feed mill and 36 years ago he established his flour business, which, under his wise guidance and sagacity, has made great strides.

A pioneer in the temperance movement, he has been for many years active in the Prohibition party. He was associated with the leaders in local option and county option campaigns before the days of state and national prohibition, and still is active in movements in which the Anti-Saloon cause is an issue.

And, too, he is a regular church-goer. For nearly 50 years he has been a member of the First Presbyterian church here.

He is a man of whom East Liverpool is proud, and the rank and file of his fellow citizens join in extending congratulations as he starts another year in business and prepares for the observance of his eighty-third natal day.

International Peace Garden

A movement has been inaugurated for the creation of a magnificent international peace garden, impressive for its extent and beauty alike, as a striking memorial to the 100 years of peace between this country and Canada.

The plan was proposed to 500 gardeners from Canada and the United States assembled in the Royal York hotel in Toronto, for the first annual convention of the International Association of Gardeners, and met with instant favor.

Naturally such a beauty spot as it is proposed to create, would be referred to by an association of gardeners as a garden, but when it is stated that the details of the plan show that it is to cover 400 acres at the border line between the two countries, the natural inclination will be to consider it a great park made exceptionally beautiful by an unusual array of foliage and bloom.

Such a park, owing to the fact that the two countries are divided by water practically all the way eastward from the Lake of the Woods in Minnesota to northeastern New York, will naturally have to be created either on the border between the Lake of the Woods and Puget sound or on the line which divides the Dominion from New York, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine.

The proposal, the delegates to the convention were informed, has already received the unofficial endorsement of both countries. To finance it, the plan is to raise a fund of $5,000,000, to be created by popular contributions. Each adult in the United States and Canada is to be asked for a contribution of 25 cents and each school child for a contribution of a nickel.

Perhaps never before in history has there been a time so given to the construction of memorials.

Since such is the case, why not a memorial to one of the most impressive situations in all time—that of two nations existing in peace and amity for 100 years without a fortification along the line extending from ocean to ocean across a great continent between them—a situation unique in world history?

Why Crime Prevails

Justice James E. Robinson of the Ohio supreme court, says that prevalence of crime in the United States, in comparison with European nations, lies in the comparative ease with which paroles are obtained.

In Justice Robinson's opinion the simplicity of the Ohio parole system—and the parole system elsewhere, for that matter—is a most important agent in provoking crime.

Thus Justice Robinson summed up his conclusions. He pointed out, too, that the automobile has made a quick "get-away" after crime simple, and added that because citizens walk the streets unarmed they are open to attack by thugs. A score of years ago, he said, folks traveling went armed, and criminals were not so ready to step in.

Justice Robinson rose from boyhood on the farm near Uniontown to a small town lawyer, and thence to the state supreme court. And because of his observations over a long period of time in close contact with the machinery of all law-enforcing agencies, he is in a position to speak with unusual authority on the subject of crime and its contributory causes.

HASKIN LETTER DAILY

By Frederic J. Haskin

Turning Back Pages of Memory

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 13.—Military operations between Latin Americans have frequently been made the butt of jokes in the United States and a comic opera aspect has been given to the armies whose members seemed mostly to be generals and whose objects appeared to be to keep out of each other's range. There have been reasons for such a picture but these relate to local political revolutions. Fractional fights in Latin American countries pale into insignificance beside struggles between nations. When whole peoples, rather than merely political parties of one South American nation or province are arrayed against each other, it is a different story.

The history of South America has been one of struggle and bloody warfare. Pizarro, the Spanish Conquistador who conquered Peru, led the boldest fighting men of Spain, those who were adventurous enough to cross an unknown ocean and penetrate a strange and mysterious land where enemies, human, and otherwise, encompassed them.

He found in the new world a race of Indians, large in stature, strong in body, and fierce in spirit. Modern expeditions have revealed to what height their civilization had reached and especially their skill in erecting fortifications of excellent masonry work. They fought with primitive weapons, to be sure, but weapons no less deadly. They were familiar with the deepest secrets of nature and were able to dip their arrowheads and knives in curious, subtle, and deadly poisons. Their bravery was unquestioned.

From these two strains the people of Bolivia and Paraguay, the principals in the dispute the commission of inquiry and conciliation now is attempting to compose, are descended. A few families have retained pure Spanish blood, many are wholly of aboriginal native Indian stock while others partake of the blood of both fighting races. The result is a man who, when sufficiently roused, becomes a formidable antagonist and performs in a manner just the reverse of that displayed in the purely political affairs which sometimes result in local revolutions.

The war between Chile and Peru lasting from 1879 to 1883 was a bitterly fought struggle both by land and by sea. Bolivia was involved in that. The world was surprised at the tenacity revealed by both sides. But it was not in any sense comparable to the war waged by Paraguay against Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina. This struggle, the fury of which was little realized at the time in other parts of the world, has come to be regarded as the bitterest and bloodiest war of modern history.

Francisco Solano Lopez, Dictator of Paraguay, now is regarded as having been insane. He had acquired considerable European military knowledge and is reputed to have entertained a delusion that he was another Napoleon.

It seemed at first a matter of relatively little consequence to the powerful Brazil; little more than an outbreak which could be quelled by police. An army was sent against Lopez to quell him. Thirteen thousand Brazilian troops succeeded in cutting off a small force of only 2,500 Paraguayans. The Brazilians expected surrender in view of their overwhelming numbers. But not until the last Paraguayan was either killed or wounded could the Brazilians take the Paraguayan position and then only with tremendous losses.

When there was scarcely one stone standing on another to shelter his troops, Lopez withdrew to the little town of Itaipu which he converted into an entrenched camp. He had only a few more than 6,000 men. The Brazilian Marquis de Caxias attacked him with 32,000 men. For five days the battle raged. During that time Lopez had slain or put out of the fight 12,000 Brazilians or twice the number of his entire army. The Brazilian Marquis' force was reduced to 20,000. But Lopez had only 1,000 left, practically every one wounded, but still fighting. The odds which had started at about 5 to 1 against Lopez now had lengthened to 20 to 1 against him. There was a momentary breathing space. Then came a force of Argentine troops to reinforce the 20,000 Brazilians. The whole army swept over the 1,000 intrepid Paraguayans, exterminating all but a handful. Lopez's personal bodyguard with which he miraculously escaped for the time being. A short time later he was again cornered and fell fighting with a corporal's guard about him, defiant to the last.

This war lasted five years despite the tremendous odds. At the beginning Paraguay was a nation of 1,000,000 souls. At the end 26,000 men were alive and about 200,000 women and children. The 26,000 men included boys, for young lads had been fighting in the army from the first as well as thousands of women. The latter alternated as soldiers and beasts of burden.

Paraguay is back to a population of 1,000,000 again and they are just as determined to fight for what they believe to be their rights as they were in the days of Lopez, although now their leaders are more pacific. But they have a glorious military tradition to uphold. No less than the Bolivians; indeed, Bolivia has a large military class which takes the same sort of pride in its prowess as did the German Junkers before the World War.

From these facts it will be seen that an actual war between Bolivia and Paraguay would mean a bitter struggle.

cludes in its cast more than ten thousand characters, and was more than three years in the making. Darryl Francis Zanuck wrote the story. Michael Curtiz, who produced "Moon of Israel," and other spectacular successes abroad, directed. The sets covered more than a square mile and the cast is one of the most impressive ever assembled.

Dolores Costello is starred with George O'Brien. In the supporting company are Noah Beery, Louise Fazenda, Quinn Williams, Paul McAllister, Nigel de Brulier, Anدرس Randolph, Armand Kalitz, Myrna Loy, William V. Mong, Malcolm Waite, Noble Johnson, Otto Hoffman, and Joe Bonomo.

"THE GAMBLERS"
DRAMATIC HIT

"The Gamblers" was greeted enthusiastically by last night's audiences at the State theater. Dialogue, each word vital and telling (a transcript of the words of Charles Klein, whose drama of the same name enjoyed a spectacular run on Broadway and the road) is recorded perfectly, and rendered perfectly by the players.

The story is that of two Wall Street financiers, a father and son, known as the "gambler Emersons." The son oversteps the law in loaning money, and is caught in his own net, and on the verge of a government investigation. The prosecutor is married to his former sweetheart, who trades upon her husband's love for her, to cause him to free young Emerson from the charge of dishonesty.

H. B. Warner, as the prosecutor gives a performance of subtlety and restraint. Lois Wilson is vivid and convincing. Robards gives a manly portrayal of the hot-headed youth, while the veteran George Fawcett, is equal to his reputation as the elder Emerson. But to Johnny Arthur, as the dishonest weakling clerk, the laurels must be given for a character bit, of moving and tragic authenticity. "The Gamblers" holds the crowd spellbound from start to finish. It is dramatic, colorful and suffused with tense emotion.

MENJOU SCORES IN CERAMIC BILL

Charming Adolphe Menjou kept the audience at the Ceramic theater last night in roars of laughter as he unfolded his idea of "Fashions in Love." The delightful comedy of a philandering celebrity and his understanding wife is probably one of the best vehicles that this sparkling star has had the opportunity of presenting and the performance is further enhanced by the lilting qualities of Menjou's voice.

Picture-goers who have appreciated in the rare fun and unusual talent of this star in the past will find him a hundred-fold more entertaining as he talks and sings his fine whimsical love making.

The story deals with the troubles of a famous concert pianist, devoted to his wife but intrigued by the adulation of his many women conquests. His wife looks on with an understanding smile during the rapid succession of love affairs until one escapade threatens to wreck another home. Then she steps in and quietly and effectively brings her erring husband back to his own fireside. The story is light, lilting and splendidly performed. Menjou touches the heart with a sure touch that produces only laughter. Two exceptionally fine women players support him, Fay Compton and Miriam Seeger, and the direction was in the hands of that master of cinema making, Victor Schertzinger.

If you have heard Schertzinger's latest song hits, "Delphine" and "I Still Believe in You," on the radio, you will enjoy them more when Menjou and Miss Compton sing them and Menjou plays the piano. There are so many things of interest in this greater Menjou picture that it takes a full evening to enjoy them all.

Indigestion
Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude acids. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume.

Mrs. Percy Monroe, 148 W. Ninth street, East Liverpool, Ohio, tells how Owa-Ton-Na helped her in a general run down condition. She says:

"I would have terrible backaches and dizzy spells. My kidneys gave me a great deal of trouble and I was just getting to the point where I didn't know what to do. I was simply all in most of the time. Food didn't agree with me, causing gas and belching spells.

"I had heard so much of the good Owa-Ton-Na had been doing for other people, and knowing that it was a harmless remedy, decided to give it a trial. It just seemed to take hold of my condition and removed that tired, worn out feeling as if by magic. My stomach acts fine and when I eat I don't have to be afraid of those headaches and backaches. My bowls are acting regularly."

SOVIET CALLS RED TROOPS IN SIBERIAN ZONE

Unification of All Forces is Ordered.

BLUCHER LEADER

Another Clash With Chinese in Manchuria Reported.

MOSCOW, Aug. 13.—(INS)—The Soviet revolutionary military council today ordered the unification of all the Red armed forces in the Far East (Siberia) under command of General Blucher, the commander-in-chief of the Red armies in the Far East during the civil war period.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 13.—(INS)—Another clash between Chinese and Soviet troops was reported from Manchuria today. Both were said to have suffered casualties but no figures.

Word received here from Manchuria today confirmed reports that two Chinese were killed, and ten wounded when Soviet machine gun squads crossed the Manchurian border and engaged in a brush with Chinese soldiers.

The situation is deemed extremely critical here, because of the two salutes of the Soviets into Chinese territory.

Soviet Rejects Settlement.

MOSCOW, Aug. 13.—(INS)—The Soviet government has declined two more Chinese offers of negotiations for settlement of the Chinese Eastern railway dispute in Manchuria.

Both of these proposals were made by Chu Chow Yang, Chinese minister to Finland. On August 7, Chu telegraphed from Manchuria, to M. Karakhan, assistant Soviet commissar of foreign affairs, requesting that a Soviet representative be sent to the frontier to discuss the situation with him.

On August 9, Chu asked Karakhan for permission to come to Moscow to discuss the situation there instead.

The Soviet government, through M. Karakhan, refused both offers for negotiation, indicating in an official statement that it considered attempts to negotiate useless unless preceded by written assurance that the Chinese Eastern railway's control would be returned to Russia.

CHICAGO KILLER LANDS IN JAIL

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 13.—(INS)—"Baby Face" Willie Doody, diminutive killer who has been the object of the greatest manhunt since the capture of Harry Durkin, surrendered passively today when three detectives found him in a west side apartment.

Doody is wanted in connection with four murders and a score of sensational robberies.

Non-Partisan Primary in Akron

A non-partisan primary was underway in Akron with three major candidates battling for nomination. They were Mayor C. L. Well, State Representative Kyle Ross and Municipal Judge J. Earl Cox.

Political interest in Lorain's primary centered in the fight of W. F. Grall for a fourth term as mayor.

Alliance politicians predicted a full primary as the election proceeded there.

Toledo voters faced the task of selection of a candidate for mayor from one of four candidates for the office under the non-partisan scheme. Mayor W. T. Jackson is seeking re-election. He is opposed by S. P. Jernigan, former service director, Carl Christensen, former municipal judge, and George Winters, county commissioner.

Sunday Amusement Issue

The Defiance election fight centered between Edward S. Bronson, incumbent mayor, and L. B. Fretz, who was defeated in the Democratic primary two years ago.

Conneaut's political observers predicted a record vote as 30 candidates placed themselves on the ballots for the various city offices.

Sunday amusement houses formed the basis of the election issue at Coshocton. Mayor Johnson Smith has taken a stand favoring Sunday amusements, while J. W. Clark, his opponent, has taken a stand against them.

Two Republicans seek the mayoralty nomination in Norwalk. No Democrats are in the race.

Gas Rate Fight in Columbus
Interest in Columbus centered around a gas rate fight where a referendum on a 53-cent gas rate ordinance was to be voted on by the 27,000 people who were expected to go to the booths.

Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown, told International News Service in Columbus that he expected less than one fourth of the 2,600,551 Ohioans who voted at the bitterly-contested election last November, to go to the polls today.

And with the very low vote in many Buckeye state communities came the knowledge that, in many places, the cost of electing a person, will be unusually high and, in some cities, set new records.

Fremont had reported only 50 votes up to 11 o'clock today. Little interest is being shown in the primary contest there.

Snook Case Near Jury

Snook, once, twice, three times, he was surrounded by police officers, wasn't he?

A—Yes.

Q—If he had not been he would never have hit him, would he?

A—I cannot say. But from what I know of Chester he is not afraid of any one. His war record—

Ricketts interrupted, declaring: "Chester's war record is not on trial."

"You think it was," shouted Chester from the state's table.

Q—(By Ricketts)—Chief French do you regard this slapping of the defendant by the prosecutor as a good piece of police work?

A—(smiling)—Well, he seemed expert in the way he did it. Jack simply lost his patience.

Parries Defense Questions.

Chief French parried Ricketts' questions so cleverly Ricketts said: "You are by any chance a lawyer?"

A—No, I'm not.

Q—(By Ricketts)—Chief French

do you regard this slapping of the defendant by the prosecutor as a good piece of police work?

A—(smiling)—Well, he seemed expert in the way he did it. Jack simply lost his patience.

Terms Interrogation "Inquisition"

Ricketts termed the interrogation of Snook as an "inquisition" and frequently used the word "torture."

French said the questioning of Snook "could in no way be construed as suggestion the Spanish inquisition."

Q—(By Ricketts)—It took you and French came right back with: "No, it was bad enough to be a policeman." The spectators roared.

Ricketts reverted to the grilling of Snook by the police. He brought out that Snook was at police headquarters for 23 hours. But, according to the chief, he was not grilled all of that time.

Q—Oh, you kept him on a pedestal for exhibition the rest of the time.

A—No, we left that for you to do at this trial.

During the cross-examination Ricketts took occasion to compliment French's ability as a witness, adding: "You wouldn't lie, chief but you would evade." The chief merely smiled.

French testified that when Snook confessed he alternately paled and flushed. And, after Snook had told some details of the crime, he said: "Chief, there is a lot more I could tell but I want advice of counsel." Snook thought if he told all his story "it would not be believed."

Denies Third Degree.

Q—(By Ricketts)—You gave him the third degree?

A—No, I have seen movies that depicted the "third degree" and have read about it in fiction stories but I never have seen it employed during my long regime as police chief of Columbus.

Q—Well, you say he wept. Why—Because of the severe way he was grilled?

A—No, I'd say it was the pricking of a guilty conscience that made him weep.

French denied that Snook had been worn down to the point where any suggestion from the authorities "was a happy one."

He said Snook was as physically fit after the long interrogation "as anybody in the room."

"Snook was in complete possession of all his faculties," declared Chief French with conviction.

Doesn't Know Motive.

Chief French, admitted he had heard two detectives ridicule Snook and "express their opinion of him quite frankly."

SUGAR DUTY ACTION SLATED

Republican Members Of Senate Committee in Dilemma.

By William K. Hutchinson, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—After giving tentative approval to the house rates on hides, leather and shoes, the Republican members of the senate finance committee today faced a decision on the highly controversial sugar schedule.

The Republican tariff-makers were in a dilemma as whatever rate they approve will be fought by a Democratic-Insurgent coalition in the senate. There appeared a strong probability that the Republicans would vote a flat two-dollar rate as applied to Cuban imports.

This will be pleasing, to say the least, to the Insurgents, who seem to favor a reduction even in the present Cuban rate of $1.76 per hundred pounds.

Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, predicting the rejection of any sugar rate above that in existing law, has obtained a mass of data from tariff experts, supporting a plan for paying a bounty to sugar producers while levying a tariff on sugar imports solely for revenue. He announced his proposed tariff would be "considerably less" than the present Cuban rate of $1.76. His plan, he added, would save the American consumers about $150,000 a year.

Regardless of what tariff the Republicans recommend, it appears entirely likely that the senate itself will reject any increase in the existing sugar duties. A preliminary poll of the senators in Washington indicated that no two of them entirely agree on a rate.

"I don't know the motive."

French admitted he had "played on Snook's emotions" by talking to him in a friendly and in ingratiate manner but denied that Snook was given any "third degree."

"No self-respecting police officer in the United States would countenance such methods," French said.

"ONLY A METEOR," is interesting proof of our tendency to ignore the most important things.

If that meteor could tell where it has been, what it has seen, during billions of years, flying through space before earth's gravity captured it, it would impart information possessed by no man. That information would be more important than the gentle medium's message, "Mamma is happy."

AND the details of the tariff fight, including the possible addition of $200,000,000 a year to the cost of sugar, do not interest the average man as much as the shape of his fall hat.

When the United States had fewer than 4,000,000 population, there was only one mechanic in the country, a New Englander, able to earn as much as one dollar a day, all the year around. Population has not hurt wages, up to now.

THIRTY-TWO CHILDREN AT COUNTY HEALTH CAMP GAIN WEIGHT

LISBON, O., Aug. 13.—All of the 32 children at Camp Gainmore, have gained in weight and the gain record is held by Marie Nelson of Leetonia, whose weight has increased eight and one-half pounds since she entered the camp a few weeks ago.

The camp is sponsored by the Columbiana County Health League, aided by Kiwanis clubs, and is located on a county farm tract adjoining the Columbiana County home.

Children at the camp are learning to eat the proper foods, that is, in the way of vegetables, such as carrots, beets, peas and beans, delivered from a farm near by every morning. Fresh milk is in abundant supply both morning and night.

The camp is divided into two groups, one known as the Teddy Bears, and the other the Reindeers. Under these names, these groups hold tournaments of baseball, horseshoes and checkers.

1,725 Votes at Noon

The Democrats have but two contests — mayor and First ward council. Friends of former Mayor W. F. Orr were said to be writing his name on the ballot for the Democratic nomination for city auditor.

J. S. Hilbert, chief deputy of the county election board, today reiterated his estimate that approximately 4,000 votes would be cast, of which number he estimated 400 would be Democrats. Polls will close at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

SPRINGER HURLS CHESTER TO 8-4 WIN

Potters In Hit Slump

Katies Limited to Five Swats at Smith Field.

MANAGER JACKIE ORR of the M. Katies was unable to pull his Potters out of their hitting slump last night and the locals dropped an 8 to 4 decision to the Chester News last night at Smith Field.

Earl Springer, Manager McMath's star ace, pitched great ball during the forepart of the game. He limited the visitors to two solitary singles for six full frames and then was nicked for three in the seventh as the Katies staged a two-run rally, which, however, fell short of the commanding margin the West Virginians had piled up in preceding innings.

The Katies had scored a run in the fourth and another in the fifth but their total failed to equal the Chester score in the first and the second frames.

Don Stoffel started for K. T. K., but the Chester swatters had their clubbing togs on and so Stoffel left the mound in the second frame with two gone.

From that point on Mackall bore the burden.

Gets Good Support.

Springer also had the advantage of some excellent support from his mates. Campbell's work at third being especially outstanding, while Connors at second engineered some hard stops at critical moments.

The Chester nine virtually clinched the scuffle in the first two innings, scoring three in the opening canto and two more in the second. Campbell led off with a single. Parsons sacrificed. Mike and Pete Cebula singled successively. Connors sacrificed and Cox's single completed the run making.

Hunselman singled to get on in the second and moved up on sacrifices by Springer and Campbell, scoring on Parsons's two-bagger to left. Parsons finished when Pete Cebula's fly to right field popped out of Kinsey's glove.

The Katies managed to make the circuit in the fourth. Schultz got the first K. T. K. hit of the game, a single to right with two gone. Kinsey singled through second and Seitzel raced to third. Parsons threw to the hot corner to head of Schultz got through Campbell and Schultz streaked to the plate.

But Chester scored two more in their half of the same inning. Springer's single, Campbell's double, plus Parsons's sacrifice turned the trick.

Bobby Withrow essayed a steal of home in the fifth. He made it all right but the decision wasn't close, the throw getting through Hunselman at the plate. He got on with a walk, stole second and reached third on a passed ball. He completed the circuit as Mackall was batting, the latter drawing a walk.

It's sometimes necessary to call a game on account of rain but last night along about this stage of the proceedings, it was as necessary to interrupt the battle for a few minutes on account of sunshine.

The sun, prior to sinking over the Ohio hills in the west, glares directly into the eyes of the batter and the catcher at Smith Field and makes both hitting and receiving difficult at times.

The Katies smacked out three singles in the seventh, Bayley, McConnell and Withrow connecting to score two runs in a belated rally. Chester made its last rally in the sixth. Springer doubled and scored on Parsons's single. Both Springer and Parsons had perfect days at bat, each with two bingles in two trips up.

Schultz at first, handled 13 chances, some of them rather difficult, for the Katies.

INTER-CITY LEAGUE

One of the big games of the week in Inter-City league skirmishing comes tonight when Roy Nicholson's Wellsville club now in second place, battles Joe Dickey's Homer Langhorne first place contenders at Newell park.

By reason of the fact that the Wellsville nine is just a half-game away from first place and a victory would oust the present leaders the scuffling tonight is bound to be somewhat spirited.

It is possible that a left hander will be sent to the hilltop by Dickey, either Baker or Pollock, while Nicholson may likewise use a southpaw, Bill Mundy. However the latter has two good flingers in Schneidemiller, who seems to have found his stride, and Bud Sanner, while Dickey is well fortified with Dignan, a right hander.

The Katies slipped back a few points last night after losing to Chester but inasmuch as the half-way mark has not been reached in the second half schedule, the local Potters must be considered very much in the running and once they regain their batting form are going to make the other clubs

Kramer is Pounded Off Hilltop in First.

MIDLAND, Pa., Aug. 13.—Routing Kramer in the first inning when they fell on his slants for six hits to score nine runs, the Open Hearths of the Pittsburgh Crucible Steel league last night defeated the Service club, first half champs, 11 to 0.

Jacobs replaced Kramer and the game settled down thereafter to an interesting battle although the Servers still were unable to complete the circuit of bases. Henderson of the Hearths had plenty of stuff on his slants and limited the Servers to four bungles.

JELLO KING GETS $3,500,000 DIVORCE

Many a pudding must be sold and eaten to pay for the secret Mexican divorce that Orator F. Woodward (above in motor boat with Orator, Jr.), Jello King, has just slipped over. It cost him $3,500,000, it is said. News of the divorce came out yesterday when it became known that Woodward's Rockland, New York, action had been discontinued. The Mexican divorce was obtained with Mrs. Persis Woodward's consent when Woodward settled $1,000,000 on her and created $750,000 trust funds for each of his two children, it is said. The custody of those children, Ruth, 12, and Orator Jr., 9, has kept the Woodward squabble in the lime-light since last spring, when their father snatched them from the entrance to the Paris school where they had been placed by their mother, and rushed them across the Atlantic to Nyack.
